MARBLE TREATMENT

POLISHED MARBLE

Polished marble is characterized by a smooth surface with a shiny and glossy look. The polish that coats the marble also acts as a type of protection, therefore allowing it to withstand stains better. However, the reflective characteristic of the finish makes it more prone to scratches. Unlike honed marble, polished marble does not require as much re-sealing.

HONED MARBLE

Honed marble is characterized by a matte, smooth and satin-feel surface. To protect, saturate in a thick porridge-like mixture of soap flakes and water. Make sure the mixture is allowed to seep into the top. This treatment is repeated 3-4 times the next two weeks.
